Hear the forecast for Hashem's weather for Monsey, Lakewood, Brooklyn Yerushalayim and London!

Option 3 from Main Menu.

Klal Yisroel is Coming Home to Hashem

According to reports that are coming out of Eretz Yisroel, there were four classes in a school in Be'er Sheva that accepted upon themselves to keep Shabbos for the first time. They also had a special learning seder as a z'chus for the hostages. This happened Shabbos Parshas Bamidbor. On that Shabbos, four hostages were freed!!

"V'shavta Ad Hashem Elokecha"

Hashem Takes Care Of Yid From Eretz Yisrael

Kollel Zichron Aryeh from Lakewood, NJ just made a raffle for a Toyota, Sienna or $40,000 cash. A yungerman from Bais Medrash Govoha bought a ticket, not for himself, but for a yid in Eretz Yisroel who needed to collect money. That yid won the raffle. He was planning on coming to America to collect, but now he was able to cancel his ticket!

"Poseiach Es Yodecha Umasbia L'chol Chai Ratzon"

Woman Trusts in Hashem

The freezer in the Knobloch house stopped working. They called a repair man, but he said he was not available to come. So Mrs. Knobloch said, "Let's call Hashem." She turned to Hashem and said, "Hashem, you can make the freezer start working." Since then, the freezer has been working perfectly!

"Baruch Hagever Asher Yivtach B'Hashem"

Man from Yerushalayim Trusts in Hashem

The Weinbergers from Yerushalayim had a cleaning lady. From one second to the next, the cleaning lady quit. They decided they were not going to make themselves crazy to do hishtadlus to find a cleaning lady. They decided they were going to do minimal hishtadlus and be boteiach that Hashem would send them the best cleaning lady. On Tuesday, a cleaning lady called up Mrs. Weinberger asking if she was looking for cleaning help, and Mrs. Weinberger said yes! The cleaning lady did a terrific job!

Woman Turns to Hashem

It was Shavuos, and Mrs. Fishman wanted to wear a certain dress, but she could not find the belt. She looked all around in the closet, but to no avail. Then it was Erev Shabbos, and again she wanted to wear that dress, and again she looked for the belt, but she was not able to find it. So she said, "Hashem, You're the Kol Yachol. Please help me find it." She looked again, and there it was!

Thank You, Hashem!

Boy from Mountandale Trusts in Hashem

Chaim Dov Pruzanksy from Mountandale, NY was in the car with his Rebbe. The window was not closing. They tried for 20 minutes, but to no avail. Finally, Chaim Dov said, "I'm going to be boteach BaHashem," and immediately the window closed!

Baruch Hagever Asher Yivtach BaHashem

Family Does Not Talk During Davening

R' Yisroel was diagnosed with yene machla. He went to his Rebbe, and his Rebbe told him that everyone in the family should be mekabel not to talk during davening. They were mekabel. On the 40th day, he went to the doctor and he took tests, and they saw that the machla had disappeared!

Ki Ani Hashem Rofecha

Anti-Semitism is On the Decline

Mrs. Cohen from Monsey, NY reported that she had to do a training together with some non-Jewish women, and they all acted extremely nice to her. One of them even held the door open for her!

Ahavti Eschem Amar Hashem

Tzedakah Tatzil Mimaves

Dovid was helping raise money for tzedakah. The next day, in the same spot where he was standing the previous day, raising money for Hatzaloh, he was hit by a car. Baruch Hashem nothing happened to him! Hashem was watching over him.

Rodeif Tzedakah V'chesed Nimitzah Chaim

Girls Turn to Hashem

There was a 12th grade class who went on their graduation trip to Niagara Falls. The weather was cloudy and rainy. It was very hard for them to enjoy the Naflaos Haboirei. The girls started singing "Hakal Yachol." Not long after that, the weather cleared up, and the sun came out. They had a beautiful time!

Vihaboteiach baHashem Chesed Yisovivenu

You Never Lose out from Doing What's Right

It was Erev Shabbos, and Dovid, a bachur learning in Bais Medrash Gavoah, wanted to daven mincha in the same minyan as

R' Yeruchem Olshin. He was running late. On the way, he met two meshulachim. Normally, he would have just passed them and not given them money. The night before, he read in the Spring Hill Times the story of a Yid from Monsey, NY who has a parnassa and sends packages from Brooklyn to Monsey. Every time he's on his way to the bus that goes to Brooklyn and he passes by a yid, he stops and gives him a ride, and he never misses the bus.

Dovid remembered that story, and he gave his credit cards to be swiped by the meshulachim. He then continued running to the minyan. When he got there, he saw that R' Yeruchem was already in the room, but he was talking to someone in learning. Dovid had enough time to say ashrei with kavana!

Thank You, Hashem!

Handyman Turns to Hashem

Chaim, a handyman, was trying to open a gas pipe. He was using a wrench, but it was not going. He took a bigger wrench, but still it was not going. Whatever he tried using did not work. He said, "One second, let me turn to Hashem." He said, "Hashem, You're the Kol Yachol," and then the pipe opened up!

Vihaboteiach baHashem Chesed Yisovivenu

All You Need To Do Is Put Hashem In The Picture

R' Meyer, a yungerman from Chesnut Ridge, NY, needed to make 100 copies. When he was halfway through, the machine broke down and stopped making copies. He did not know what to do. He tried this and tried that, but to no avail. He called the "A Life with Bitach" hotline and the second he called, the machine started working again!

Hashem Watches Over Baby

Dovid, a boy from Manchester, England, reported that his baby brother, one and a half years old, was going past the refrigerator. A tray fell off the refrigerator and missed his brother by a millimeter!

Thank You, Hashem!

Anti-Semitism is on the Decline

Reuven from Brooklyn, NY reported that there was a story about an Israeli soldier who donated a kidney to his fellow soldier. Non-Jews commented on the story how they love and support Jews! Ahavti eschem amar Hashem

Did you know that when it comes to Mussar or when saying a Mussar concept, it's only for what talks to you and what motivates you. What motivated people in the olden days is different than what motivates people nowadays.

By: Rabbi Zevy Golombeck

For example, the Kotzker would say to people, "Are you eating l'kavod Shabbos, or are you eating l'kavod your stomach? You're not really l'shem Shamayim, you're l'shem stomach!"

R' Yehuda Mandel said, "You know what I say nowadays? It's l'shem mitzvas Shabbos! Nowadays, if you say it's not really l'shem mitzva, it will crush you. Don't criticize yourself and don't criticize others. Even more, the way you value your mitzva, that's the way Hashem values it. Even if it's only 1% l'shem Shaymayim, if you value your mitzva, if you consider it more valuable than the mitzvos of Rishonim and Acharonim, since it's so much harder for us to do mitzvos, that's the way Hashem values it."

I called R' Falk to ask where the m'kor is for such a concept, and he said he heard a shmuz from R' Yaakov Galinsky that there's a pasuk in Tehillim, "U'lecha Hashem chessed, ki ata seshalem l'ish k'maasehu." R' Yaakov Galinsky said the pshat is, Hashem is chessed because He gives schar according to how you value the worth of your actions, not according to their actual worth. Nowadays, you should never criticize your mitzvos, you should consider them valuable and chashuv, and you'll get schar accordingly!

Everyone knows of the great neis that happened this year when Iran attacked Israel. This was an attack that had potential to do tremendous damage. They sent over 300 missiles to Israel. There were missiles the size of 18 wheeler trucks, missiles that were

Gold Mines

Based on the teachings of Rav Yehudah Mandel

By: R' Baruch Rosenstock

GPS equipped to hit their exact target. What was the end result? Nothing happened and nobody was hurt! It was a neis nigleh - it was clearly yad Hashem! This story is beyond comprehension, the chances of no one getting hurt makes no sense al pi tevah. Then we saw the Iranian president who was behind this attack, how he suddenly died in a helicopter crash and vanished in thin air. He is the one who has been saying: I'm going to wipe out Israel, and now look at what happened to him!

We have to speak about these nissim and realize how much Hashem is doing for us and protecting us. We should remember this neis again and again, R' Mandel said over that after the 6 day war R' Chaim Shmulevitz was talking about the great nissim that happened, for a year after. This story has so much potential to build our Emunah and bitachon when we internalize Hashem's power and how much chessed he is doing for us.

Parsha Delight Question of the Week

פרשת מטות - ממעי תשפ"ד (5784)

The pasuk (31:6) says that Pinchas was also sent to war, and Rashi explains that it was in order that he finish off what he had started. He killed the Midyani princess, צור בת כובי, therefore he should continue killing the rest of the Midyanim. Was it in fact permitted for Pinchas, being a Kohen, to kill the Midyanim and subject himself to טומאת מת?

Why does the pasuk (34:25) list the Nasi of Zevulun before the Nasi of Yissochor, contrary to how it appears in the rest of the Torah?

The Bitachon Perspective

Q & A with Rabbi Zevy Golombeck
Typed by R' Shalom Yedidya Klatzko

Q. I am presently redoing my house and am immersed in all the details. It came to a point that the renovations are on my mind every second of the day, robbing me of my menuchas hanefesh. What's the emunah and bitachon perspective about this?

A. The reason a person can become overwhelmed when redecorating his house is because he feels that his decisions are what determine the outcome. Therefore, his mind is constantly racing, "If I decide on such-and-such, I will be happy. On the other hand if I do things differently, I might be happier. Perhaps, I should do things in a third way altogether..." This never-ending deliberation can rob a person of his menuchas hanefesh.

You need to realize that your decisions have nothing to do with how your house will turn out! Hakadosh Baruch Hu is the one who will determine how your house is going to look. Your job is merely to do hishtadlus; do your best to design your house according to your taste. However, the way your house will turn out and how much you will enjoy it is completely up to Hakadosh Baruch Hu.

When you reprogram yourself with this mindset, you will find that you will be able to go through renovations relaxed and at ease.

Additionally, consider the following: Why are you so pressured that your house should come out perfect? Because you feel that if your house comes out beautiful, you will be happy. Therefore, you want to make sure that everything comes out right.

Comes the Mesilas Yesharim and teaches us: Happiness does not come from material pleasures. A beautiful house cannot supply a person with true sipuk.

We are all programmed with the awareness that we were sent to this world for a purpose: To gain closeness with Hashem and become eligible to enjoy Olam Habah. Only when we are involved in fulfilling our mission in this world do we feel true, intrinsic happiness.

Once you realize that it's not your house that will make you happy, rather it's fulfilling the mitzvos and working on your relationship with Hashem, the renovations won't be so pressuring. After all, having a nice house is just the backdrop. However, the chief component of happiness – serving Hashem – will always be available to you, no matter how the house turns out.

Hashem Loves You!

Many years ago, I was a camper in Camp Ohr Shraga and there was a major blackout in camp as well as in the entire mountains. There was absolutely no electricity, lights, air conditioning, or running water, since the reservoir ran on an electric pump. The entire camp utilized these moments of heavy darkness as an opportunity for growth and elevation, and everyone gathered for a major shmuz given by the Camp's Mashgiach. The atmosphere was quiet and tranquil, and everyone's eyes were completely focused on the shiur. The Mashgiach spoke about the amazing endless love that Hashem has for every single yid no matter what. Hashem gave us so many Mitzvos both Bein Adam LaMakom and Bein Adam LaChavairo, so that we can have countless ways to connect with Him and tangibly experience His great love. Every time we show our friend extra concern and sensitivity, every time we daven to Hashem from our hearts, and every time we connect to Hashem by learning His Torah, we are connecting to the flow of endless love, infinite joy, and nonstop Simcha which Hashem is sending our direction at every moment. Everyone walked away uplifted and energized.

I will never forget how one of the greatest senior Talmidei Chochomim in camp, HaRav HaGaon Rav Karp ZT"l, who knew all of Shas by heart and was a walking Sefer Torah, instructed everyone to wash their hands only until their knuckles so as to ensure that everyone will have water, and he encouraged everyone to use these challenging moments as an opportunity to strengthen בן אדם לחבירו

That Shabbos, by Shalosh Seudos, a senior elderly Rav in camp spoke about how the electric company, located many hundreds of miles away, produces a tremendous supply of electricity and a small "technical glitch" in the system greatly affects the power supply for thousands of people and families who live many hundreds of miles away, as we all experienced during this major blackout. Similarly, the Rav explained, our Torah, Tefila, Chesed and Bitachon powers the entire world with energy! Our Torah and Mitzvos sends millions of 'kilowatts' of life, Bracha, Gezunt, Parnasa, and major Yeshuos to the entire world!

Later, when Hashem restored everyone's electricity, everyone was so Be'Simcha! Spontaneous dancing erupted! Everyone understood how electricity, light, power, running water and air conditioning is Hashem making us feel so loved, cared for, watched and protected!

To this day, when I turn on the faucet and water comes out in abundance, I focus on how much love and caring from Hashem is flowing freely.

Everyone understood that the entire blackout experience, with all of its challenges, was Hashem showing us how much we can enjoy and appreciate His gifts of light, energy, running water and air conditioning and how much we should feel so loved and cared for with these precious gifts.

I was once eating by a Gadol's house on Shabbos, and as he ate the Seuda, he kept on saying again and again how much the food is making him feel loved, cared for, watched and protected by Hashem!

When we enjoy the hundreds of gifts that Hashem is sending our direction every moment, let's feel loved, cared for, watched and protected by Hashem, because Hashem is sending us these gifts out of the greatest Ahava, a love so great that we cannot even comprehend how infinite and endless it is!

Hashem loves us!
