לע'נ פעסל בת ישראל מנחם / לזכות חילינו

Prayer is the knowledge that although we may not be in control, at any moment we have the ability to connect to the One Who is.

RABBI DANIEL AGALAR

"The lamp of G-d is the soul of man..." (Mishlei 20:27)

The collective Jewish people are likened to a big jar of oil with G-d being the flame that lights them up. Some precious drops of oil have been taken from the jar. We pray to G-d that He brings them home.

RABBI YIRMI GINSBERG

Each Jew is a candle in the world of darkness; it is our responsibility to bring light to others. Chanukah reminds us that we don't need to wait for perfect conditions to act; even a small spark, when tended to, can lead to great light.

LUBAVITCHER REBBE, RABBI MENACHEM MENDEL SCHNEERSON (1902-1994)

The flames of the menorah remind us of the power of faith; that even when surrounded by darkness and oppression, a small flame of belief can bring about the greatest miracles.

RAV AVRAHAM YITZCHAK KOOK (1865-1935)

A people whose capacity for joy cannot be destroyed is itself indestructible.

RABBI JONATHAN SACKS (1948-2020)
