

“Good Morning to You”

24. Even in circumstances where greeting a member of the opposite gender is permitted, one may nevertheless not greet them in a personal manner. Therefore, one may not say, “Good morning to you,” “May you have a good day;” “Good morning, Mrs. Schwartz;” etc., because in these cases the greetings are of a personal nature.

(Minchas Yitzchok 8:126; B'tzeil Hachochmah 5:48)
