

Plan Accordingly

Before traveling on a plane, one should use foresight to avoid any problematic situations. For instance, if a man knows of another man traveling on the same flight, he should try to reserve a seat next to him. Similarly, one should attempt to reserve a coveted seat (e.g., the bulkhead) which would make it easier to convince someone to switch there if necessary. Of course, one should always daven to the Ribono Shel Olam, “V'al tevi 'einu lidei nisayon...”
