

Personal Secretaries

20. It is not advisable for a man to have a woman as his personal secretary. If it is deemed absolutely necessary, one should speak the matter over with a Rav and discuss how to make the proper arrangements (e.g., the secretary should sit in her own room, completely separate from the boss's office, as well as other safeguards that will keep them separated). (Yisrael Kedoshim p. 254; Malbushei Mordechai p. 409)
