

Overtime

23. Even if an office is arranged completely according to halachah, nevertheless if men and women work there, they should try to only work during official office hours and not remain in the office working overtime on a constant basis or at other odd hours and days, such as during the non-Jewish holidays, when most employees do not come into the office. At these times, the usual office decorum is not in place. (Yisrael Kedoshim p. 246)
