

Speaking Appropriately in the Workplace

- 10. In the workplace, one may come in contact with all types of people. One must always be on guard to ensure that the conversations remain refined and appropriate, even if others, unfortunately, do not take this issue seriously.
- 11. Before one accepts a job in any workplace, he or she should make sure that only people who speak in a clean and proper way work there.
- 12. If one works in a place where one of his coworkers regularly speaks in an unclean way and it is not possible to get him to stop, one should consult a rav to see if he is allowed to remain at his job.
