

Details of the Prohibition

1. A man is prohibited from walking behind a woman. This prohibition applies even when the woman is dressed completely modestly. However, it is even more severe if she is dressed immodestly. (Brachos 61a; Shulchan Aruch E.H. 21:1)

2. If a man finds himself walking behind a woman, he must rush ahead of her, walk toward the side, or wait until she walks ahead and there is adequate distance between them. (Berachos 61a; Shulchan Aruch E.H. 21:1; Shu"t Radvaz 2:770)

3. There is a dispute amongst the poskim regarding the minimum required distance which would permit the man to walk behind the woman. Some poskim hold that a distance of four amos (approximately eight feet) is enough. Others hold that she must be even farther – far enough away that the man can't see her physical movements. (Ba'er Heitev E.H. 21:2)
